Putting a stop to nuisance calls

CPR Call Blocker

User Guide V.101

2. Installation

- Connect CPR101 Phone interface to telephone
- CPR101 line interface connects to BT line
- Connect CPR101 to Fax port if required

1. Main Introduction

The CPR101 is designed for preventing nuisance calls and spam faxes. It does this by filtering all calls made to your phone.

The CPR101 will block any number that is inputted into its 'Blocking list' memory by using the CPR 'Block Now' button or manual programming.

The CPR101 blocks spam faxes and nuisance calls to your fax machine by using the 'Tel 2' port.

The CPR101 is pre-programmed with all rogue calling numbers known to the CALL PREVENTION REGISTRY

3. CPR 'Block Now' Function

The CPR101 'Block Now' button is located on the top of the unit. This allows you to block any unwanted caller's number instantly.

Use this feature to block unwanted and withheld numbers as they are calling you.

At the touch of a button the unwanted caller's number is logged into the unit's memory, the call will hang up and the number blocked permanently.

Note: To turn off withheld number blocker see instructions below.

4. Command Content

Customer Support 0800 652 7780

Order code	Command function	significance
* 7#	Blocking list	CPR101 detects an incoming call which belongs to blocking list; the call will hang up automatically. Numbers not on this list will receive normal ringing.
* 6#	Erasing a number	Erases an inputted number from the 'Blocking List'.

5. Command Operation

Programming a number into "Blocking" list

1. Pick up the telephone and input * 7# you will hear a 'beep'.
2. Then enter the telephone number you wish to block, followed by the # key, you will hear a 'beep' to confirm success.
3. Enter the next number or hang up to complete setup.

Note:

Three "Beeps" means failure-Hang up and try inputting again
Ignore the BT operator error when inputting a number, listen for the confirmation "Beeps"

Erasing one Number from the "Blocking" list

1. Pick up the telephone and input * 6# you will hear a 'beep'.
2. Then enter the telephone number you wish to delete from the call blocker followed by the # key, you will hear a 'beep' to confirm success.
3. Hang up to complete setup.

To turn on/off withheld number blocker, use the same principle as above but don't enter a number i.e. * 7 # beep, then # to turn on and * 6 # beep, then # to turn off.
